

2001 Recipient of the Dr. Lois-Higgins Grote Heritage Award

JESSIE STONEMAN

(April 15, 1924 – June 15, 2013)

Pioneer for Women Police in the Hamilton Police Service

Jessie is a true pioneer for women in policing who shows no fear in making a path for others to follow. She is a staunch supporter and member of Ontario Women In Law Enforcement, and a long-time Life Member of the International Association of Women In Police. Contributions she made to her community, church, Girl Guides are too numerous to mention. Jessie is the example of going where there is no path and leaving a trail for other women in policing to follow

The IAWP honors her with the Heritage Award for 2001.
